BURTON G. O. P. KEYNOTER WILL HELP COOLIDGE

Ohio Congressman Is Leading Figure In Party

HOME CLEVELAND

Helped Pave Way for Harding's Presidency—Burton, 72 Years Old, Senior Sage ofCongress

By HARRY B. HUNT

WASHINGTON, May 5.—There's more than appears on the surface in the selection of Representative Theodore Burton, former Senator from Ohio, to sound the G. O. P. keynote at Cleveland convention June 10.

Burton was not chosen because of outstanding oratorical ability. He is a ponderous speaker, with a husky throaty voice that is hard to follow. His speeches are informative rather than inspiring. He is not adept at hinting with pride or viewing with alarm, unless he can put his pointer to the specific facts and figures. His speeches, even then, rouse no one to enthusiasm, though they furnish food for thought in ruminative hours.

President Coolidge promptly disposed of a story that Burton's selection had been made without his approval. He himself, he says, suggested the Ohio representative as a proper and desirable choice.

The fact that Burton is a resident of Cleveland, where the convention is to be held, and of Ohio, the home of President Harding—who, except for the intervention of Fate, would be the nominee again this year—made the selection of an Ohioan and a Clevelander particularly happy, Coolidge suggested.

All true, doubtless. But keynoters at national conventions are selected for practical rather than sentimental grounds. And granting that this sentimental reason exists in the case of Burton selection, there was a piece of practical politics involved that played a much greater part in the decision. For instance:

Ohio is debatable ground this year. It is one of the "pivotal" states. The Buckeye electors may throw the decision for or against Coolidge for reelection.

Meanwhile, the position of the party in the state is not happy. There is an interstate battle raging between rival groups backing rival candidates for the head of the state ticket. This throat fight over who shall be the Republican candidate for governor threatens to gum up the race of the Republican candidate for President in the state should any one of the factional leaders now involved be nominated.

And right there's where Burton, as keynoter, comes in.

The recognition of Burton as party leader in Ohio by choosing him to set the pitch for the national campaign, directly intended to boost him into the spot-light as a man behind whom the party's factions in Ohio could unite for governor.

As head of the state Republican ticket, it is figured, Burton would be a big help toward pulling Coolidge out of the state with a majority. The nomination of a gubernatorial candidate from any of the factions now at war with each other, would distinctly handicap the national Republican ticket in the state and might make a difference of 50,000 in his total electoral count.

And a much less margin than 48 is likely to decide the result.

Burton, a bachelor, was 72 last December. He is one of the senior sages of Congress and set the precedent running for and being re-elected to the House of Representatives after having served in the U. S. Senate.

Burton's withdrawal as candidate for re-election to the Senate in 1914 paved the way for Warren G. Harding to succeed him in the Senate and the ultimate promotion to the Presidency. As keynoter this year—and gubernatorial candidate—he may help Coolidge to retain that office.

If the population of South Africa is on increasing at the present rate, within the next 50 years the white population will have grown to 20,000,000 and the black to 27,000,000.

Among the strange specimens discovered in Brazil are flat fish, with poison spike in their tails, and rats which make noises like barking dogs.

Keeping Congress in Trim

Bernard MacFadden, physical culturist, has undertaken the job of keeping congressmen fit. Here he is putting Senator Smith Brookhart of Iowa through a little exercise conductive to removing all flabbiness about the waist. Colleagues of Brookhart are applauding from the side-lines.

CONTRADICTORY ON TOURIST ROUTING

Knoxville Says Middlesboro Wronged Them but Still Sends Cars Other Way

Again claiming that it is routing the bulk of tourists this way and suggesting that the garages and filling stations of Knoxville have been responsible for tourists going north by routes other than the road by Maynardville, Tazewell and Middlesboro, R. W. Hanlon, secretary of the Knoxville Automobile club, writes S. M. Reams that Middlesboro business men no doubt "realize that they have done the Knoxville club an injustice."

The letter is dated May 2 and attached to it is a copy of a letter received from Roscoe A. Marvel, Kenilworth Inn., Biltmore, N. C., who seems to have been misrouted. The writer says he received his road information from one of the Knoxville filling stations.

Mr. Reams is in receipt of a copy of a letter dated April 30 which Cowan Rodgers, president of the Knoxville Automobile club, wrote Manager H. P. Foster, in which he practically admits that tourists are at present not being routed this way and will not be until the road is "passable." The letter, in part, follows:

"We have always been extremely friendly to Middlesboro, Ky., in our effort. Just as soon as our club secretary, Mr. Russel Hanlon, can be convinced that the road by Middlesboro is in passable shape, you can gamble that our club will send tourists that way, as a matter of fact I believe I am correct when I make the statement that the Directors of the Knoxville Automobile club have on several occasions voiced the sentiment that this route of the Dixie Highway would do Knoxville more good than other routes and all we have been waiting for is that a passable road could be completed and opened up."

With the gist of these communications before them, Middlesboro business men may decide whether or not the Knoxville Automobile club has been "friendly" to this city. Tourists coming through Middlesboro—those that come this way regardless of instructions—are not by any means unanimous in the statement that the Knoxville routing office sends tourists by Middlesboro via Tazewell and Maynardville.

HURST IMPROVING LOCAL CEMETERY

Road to Be Resurfaced, Fence Built and New Sections Opened Up

W. D. Hurst is making a number of improvements at the Hurst cemetery. Considerable grading is being done, roads are being resurfaced and a fence is being built. He says that about $1200 will be spent on improvements there this year and that plans are being made to open a new section.

Yesterday damage was done the new grade when a large car was run over the newly graded gutter. He requests the public to refrain from the use of this until it is completed. The owner says that he intends to make an ideal burying ground of the place.

Confess Robbing Barber Shop Here

Lee Griffin, 16, following his arrest by police officers Saturday afternoon, confessed to robbing the Service Barber shop a week previously of a quantity of razors. He claimed that another boy was implicated in the theft but the latter strongly denies the charge. Police officers recovered eight razors from the Griffin boy and these were identified by the proprietor of the barber shop as his property. The boy denied taking part in the robbery of the Dixieland pool room which occured on the same night.

GEN. ALLEN TO TALK AT L. M. U., COMMENCEMENT

Interesting Features at Graduating Exercises Are Planned

PIONEERS' DAY

Week of June 1-4 Set Aside—Several Seniors Dropped Out During Typhoid Fever Epidemic

HARROGATE, May 5—One of the features of the twenty-seventh annual commencement at Lincoln Memorial University, June 1-4, will be the address by Gen. Henry T. Allen on Wednesday morning, June 4, to the graduating class.

Others who will appear on the programs during the commencement exercisesare: Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney-general; the Hon. Hugh Gordon Miler, of New York city; the Rev. J. J. Castleberry, of Walnut Hills Christian church Cincinnati; and Congressman L. W. Fairfield, of Indiana.

The Sunday June 1 program will comprise the sermon in the morning to the graduates by Dr. J. W. Hill, chancellor of Lincoln Memorial University and the address before the Young Men's and Young Women's associations in the evening by the Rev. J. J. Castleberry, of Cincinnati.

Pioneers' Day

The Pioneers' day convocation is likely to be a feature of the commencement activities this year. The convocation, if it becomes a definite part of the regular program, will be held Monday afternoon at the Boone monument just above Cumberland Gap where Kentucky and Virginia converge. The program will center around Jesse Tennessee and its part in American history with speakers of local and national prominence figured. At the close of the convocation, an honor student of this year's graduating class will place a wreath on the monument of Daniel Boone with a fitting eulogy to the pioneer.

The class day exercises of the senior class will be presented at 10:30 on Monday morning. These will be in the form of an original play written and dramatized by the class and embodying the class prophecy, history, salutory and valedictory.

Music to be a Feature

The music department will give its annual concert on Monday night according to Prof. J. W. Denny, head of the department. The program will be varied with piano, vocal, glee club, and choral selections interspersed. The date of the senior recital of Miss Hazel Kelly and Miss Bessie Smithhas been moved up to May 16, and will not be given during commencement week.

Fifteen graduates of the academy lomas on Tuesday morning at the regular academy commencement exercizes. The Hon. Hugh Gordon Miller, of New York city, will deliver the address before the Grant-Lee Philomathean, Lanier and Browning Literary societies on Tuesday evenjnging. The public is invited.

Typhoid Affected Class

The commencement for the college department will take place on Wednesday morning, June 2. Due to several seniors being forced to drop back because of the epedemic of typhoid which struck the university in February, only six will receive their degrees at the spring commencement. The rest will be graduated at the end of the summer term in August. The six who are to receive degrees are:Misses Ada Alexander, Ida Ida Hilton, Hazel Kelly, Gertrude Higdon, and George Hill and Henry Keutman.

The main address will be made by General Henry T. Allen of the United States army, now retired, but formerly commander of the American Expeditionary forces in Germany. There will be other talks by well-known visitors. At the close of the exercises a basket dinner will be served on the grounds. The alumni association will meet at 1:30 Wednesday afternoon, and a baseball game between the L. M. U. nine and a team composed of alumni will end the twenty-seventh commencement of Lincon Memorial University.

The meeting of the board of directors which is ordinarily held on Monday of commencement week but this year it has been set for May 13. The change of date has been made because of the necessity of discussing many matters required the board's attention before the issuance of the annual catalog in June.

The summer term will begin June 9.

SALVATION ARMY FRESH AIR CAMPS

To Care for Thousands of City Boys and Girls During Summer

CHICAGO, MAY 5—Thousands of boys and girls whose only playground is the city streets will get a sip of country life and a coat of tan this summer as the result of preparations being made now by the Salvation Army to open nine fresh air camps near various middle western cities. Two thousand mothers and other "grownups" also are expected on the Army's guest list during the hot weather.

Camps will be maintained at Indianapolis, Des Moines, Army Lake, Wis., near Milwaukee, Lakeville, Mich., near Detroit, Ferguson, Mo., near St Louis, and Silver Lake Minn. near Minneapolis. The Army in Chicago has purchased a 60-acre tract at Upper Camp Lake, near Antioch, Ill., for a camp site, while the Kansas City organization bought 15 acres, heavily wooded, near Independence, to replace that rented last last year at Dodson.

Construction of the camp buildings at Upper Camp Lake has just started. The site which was purchased this spring by the Salvation Army to replace the property at Glen Ellyn, Ill., where the Chicago camp was formerly located, will have 30 cottages, an assembly hall, dining hall and other buildings.

Last summer the Salvation Army fresh air camps in the central territory gave outings to more than 5,000 children and more than 1,0000 mothers. Large numbers attend the oping day around July 1, after which the boys and girls come for a week at a time, some with their mothers. Those children who need the country most are given preference by the workers who arrange the trips, so that many may find health, as well as happiness.

Bell County Deputy Slain by Drunken Man at Kettle Island

Slayer Escapes After Shooting Andy Baird

SATURDAY NIGHT

Had Been Terrorizing Camp By Promiscous Firing During Entl Evening

Andy Baird, a Bell county deputy sheriff, was shot by Fred Lane at Kettle Island mining camp near Pineville late Saturday night and died from the wounds at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Lane escaped after the homicide and as not been captured.

According to residents of the camp, Lane was intoxicated Saturday evening. He bought some pistol cartridges from a store there, claiming he wanted to kill a turkey. He fired these shots promiscously, terrorizing the people of the vicinity.

It is said that he heard Deputy Sheriff Baird was looking for him and that he immediately started looking for the officer.

After firing all his pistol cartridges he went to his home and got his shot gun. During his search for the officer he invaded a school board meeting at the camp.

During this time Deputy Baird was attending church nearby. On leaving the meeting he heard of the disturbance caused by Lane, and deputizing a man named Collette and another to help himhelp him, he started searching for Lane.

Lane saw the officer and his deputies at a distance and is said to have shouted to them: "Come and get me." Then Lane raised his shot gun and fired the charge of shot striking the deputy in the thigh, seriously wounded, the officer fell to the ground. He had drawn his pistol, whether or not before Lane fired the shot-gun, is not known. Lane fled after inflicting the mortal wound on his adversary while Baird emptied his pistol at the retreating figure. None of the shots took effect, it seems.

Sheriff Martin Green and his deputies went to the scene soon after the killing but Lane escaped. He has not been seen by the officers since the fatal shooting.

Andy Baird had been a deputy sheriff for some time and Sheriff Green says he made an efficient officer and was a respected citizen. He is survived by a wife and two small children.

SOUTHERN TRAVEL COMING OVER DIXIE

Road Report Says Way Now Passable, Final Repair Finished By May 20

By Associated Press.

FRNKFORT, KY. May 5.-Reports indicate that travelers are beginning to come over the Eastern Dixie from the South. Joe S. Boggs, state highway engineer commented today in making public a report of weekly detour and road conditions. The report follows:

It seems that the final touches to repair work south of the Rockcastle-Madison county line will not be completed before May 20. Travelers will be coming through in the meantime, but the road will not be at its best until that date.

The road through Deconsey, Kenton and Pomosville is still closed while repairs are being made south of Kenton. Southbound traffic from Cincinnati should cross the river at Newport then go by way of Alexandria, and Grant's Lick to Butler. At Butler turn to right to avoid construction south of town, and go to the LLL road, then turn left and go three miles to Greenwood and on to Falmouth; then go through Cynthiana and Paris to Lexington. Excepting a few rough places this road is in good condition to Lexington.

The LLL road south of Covington between Independence and the Pendleton county line is under construction. There are several detours and a difficult ford to cross. For safe and certain going take the Alexandria route just described.

The Dixie Highway south of Covington is under construction. Local traffic through Florence and Williamstown should detour at Walton and Dry Ridge.

From Lexington to Rockcastle county line there are two rough stretches of three miles each. (See Rockcastle county.)

Booneway Trail

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY—From the Madison county line to Mt. Vernon is rough, but repairs are being made. Most of the traffic going via Nicholasville, Camp Dick Robinson, Lancaster, Crab Orchard, and Mt. Vernon to avoid repair work. In traveling from Mt. Vernon to Livingston, keep the main road which is in good condition excepting the new earth grade one mile north of Livingston; this is at present in fair condition, and traffic goin gthrough with little difficulty. From Livingston to Rockcastle River gravel surface is in fair condition.

LAUREL COUNTY—The earth grade just south of Rockcastle River is in good condition at present. Traffic is going through with ease in dry weather. The waterbound macadam section joining this on the south is in excellent condition.

WHITLEY COUNTY—Macadam from Corbin to Williamsburg is in excellent condition. From Williamsburg to Jellico, the graded earth road is passable in dry weather; traffic going through with difficulty. Travelers bound for Tennessee and beyond should take the "Boone Way" at Corbin.

KNOX COUNTY—Tennessee traffic should go by way of Barbourville and Pineville to Cumberland Gap. Grade and drain construction in progress between Corbin and Barbourville. Detour via Woodbine and Dishman Springs now passable, is expected to be in good condition by May 1. Automobiles are goin gthrough with their own power. Road through Barbourville Pineville and Middlesboro to Cumberland Gap in good to excellent condition. Watch for the "Invisible Track Road" in Pineville; you will know it by the four longitudinal ruts in the surface.

Midland Trail.

Going west from Ashland, traffic will find a paved road in good condition to the Carter county line, a distance of 13.3 miles. There is a graded earth road from the Carter county line through Grayson and Olive Hill to Morehead which is passable in dry weather only. From Morehead to Farmers is rock asphalt in excellent condition. Farmers to Owingsville fair, can be traveled at any time. From Mt. Sterling through Winchester, Versailles, Frankfort to Shelbyville, road in good condition. There is a detour west of Shelbyville; turn left at the barricade and go through Venchdale and Clarks Station. Travelers are advised to drive carefully as [illegible] narrow in places and in wet weather. At [illegible] Station, go either [illegible] Jeffersonville.

646 TRUCKS AND AUTOMOBILES HERE

Middlesboro's Motor Vehicles Investments More Than Half Million

With 646 automobiles and trucks limits of Middlesboro an assessed valuation of 285,075 is represented according to the assessor. This being approximately forty-five per cent of the initial cost of the automotive vehicles, a total of more than a half million dollars is invested in this manner.

The assessor has compiled some interesting figures on the operating costs of these vehicles for a year. With gasoline at twenty-five cents per gallon, the sum of approximately $60,000 is spent annually for this purpose, if the figures are based on the low average of one gallon per vehicle daily. The cost of repairs, accessories and the amount of depreciation would be difficult to even estimate but no doubt it would run into staggering figures.

A Thought

Thou will keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee.—Isa 26-3.

Peace is the masterpiece of reason.—John Ruskin.

THE MAIN CHANCE TODAY'S

The main chance is today's chance. The weeks along life's highway testify to that simple truth. It is right and good to look ahead, but the man who sees furtherest is the man who keeps his eye on the job. It is splendid to have the urge to climb high. But the man who gets there is the man who never takes his gaze from the finger holds in the sheer rock wall of his hard ascent.

It is no new thought. Read Shakespeare's words, surviving through three hundred years:

"'Tis a common prof
That lowliness is young ambition's ladder,
Whereunto the climber turns his face;
But when he once attains the utmost rond,
He then unto the ladder turns his back.
Looks in the clouds, scorning the base degrees,
By which he did ascend.

Pitiful it is to see the broken hulk of a man lying at the base of life's mountain side and to know that he fell from high when success had turned his head.

Every day, in every field, we see these wrecks. And they point a moral that no man dare disregard. Life's work is, indeed, a climb and few and far between are the plateau lands upon which the breath-spent toiler may seek refreshment.

How many are the men in private business or public concerns, who, flushed with the zeal for great attainment, despise the smaller tasks which lead them to the goal. How often a man who uses public office to gain a higher honor, awakes to the rude actuality that he has been weighed and found wanting in his simple trust.

The key to great opportunity lies in proving true in the obscure, humble tasks of the present moment. The man who keeps ever in mind that his present job is his main job ,that the present chance is the main chance, builds slowly, but surely, to broader trusts and greater achievements.

The builder knows that the higher he would rear his structeure toward the heavens, the deeper and broader and stronger must be his foundation The digging may be dull and tedious business, but without it there can be no lofty tower to challenge the eternal stars.

THUNDERIN'

Hal Cochran's Rain Poem

TWO little kiddies are tucked into bed and the covers are pulled up real tight. Their faces are washed and their prayers have been said, and they've kissed mom and daddy good night.

There's darkness outside and the wind starts to shriek and the tots are as still as can be. Then one to the other will cautiously speak, "Say, cuddle up closer to me."

And then comes the glare of a lightning flare and a thunder roll blasts through the night. Two pillows are bare; little heads are not there 'cause they've suddenly huddled from sight.

When the weather is warm and a summer-time storm sends the elements out on a tear, you can't blame the mites on the thundery nights for wishing their parents were there.

A faint little call travels downthrough the hall, e'er the thunder and lightning die. Oh, mamma! Oh, daddy! Come here, hold my paddy! The're having a war in the sky."

Brown-Dyer Shows Not Coming Here

The Brown-Dyer shows, a big tented attraction which has been billed for Middlesboro next week, have announced that they have changed their plans and will not come here at all. The show, instead of coming here next week, will remain in Knoxville another week. It is thought that the price of the site for the tents and the city tax rate has made this an undesirable place for such a show.

Oasis or Mirage

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 12—PUSSY IN BOOTS TELLS A STORY

"I'M going to take you to see a most important important person today," Said Mr. Muggs to Nancy and Nick.

"Who?" cried the Twins excitedly.

"No other than Pussy in Boots," remarked Mister Muggs, polishing the lamps of his little automobile. He lives in Once-Upon-a-Time Land, not far from his master, in a nice little house with a catnip garden. He spends his time raising mice to sell in the cat market. They say he has made quite a fortune for himself— as well as his master."

"That will be loads of fun!" said Nick. Let's start right away. Is it far?"

"Let me see," said Mister Muggs. "The Kingdom of the Marquis of Carabas, his master ,is In Once-Upon-a-Time Land right near the Kingdom of Snow White. The cat lives near the Marquis of Carabas, who is his master."

So they all jumped into the magic automobile and whizzed away.

They soon came to the kingdom of the Marquis of Carabas and to the little house where the Puss lived, and knocked on the door.

"Good evening, good sirs, and madam," said Pussy-in-Boots when he saw them. "Come in and have a cup of catnip tea. I was just wishing for company, as I am getting old and a bit lonely, now that my master has a beautiful wife and a palace and a rich kingdom to look after."

"Will you tell us about it?" asked Nancy when they were seated in the little house.

"I should like nothing better," said Puss, stroking his long white whiskers thoughtfully. "It is this way:

"My master was a poor boy—the youngest of three sons. And when his father died he left each of the other boys a share of his fortune, but to the youngest he left only me. So I felt responsible for his fortune.

I used my wits—and wits, my friends, are worth more than gold.

"The first thing I did was to give my poor master a grand name. I called him the Marquis of Carabas.

"Next I caught a brace of partridges and gave them to the king in the name of the Marquis of Carabas.

"Next I went to a wizard's house. A bad wizard, he was, a very bad wizard.

"The wizard changed himself into a mouse and I ate him. Then I took his house and lands and gave them to my master.

"After that the king's daughter married my master, and they are very happy indeed. My days of adventure are over. Once a year my master rides to my door and gives me a new pair of boots. It's time for a new pair now."

"Thank you for being so hospitable and kind," said Nancy finishing her tea and getting up to go.

"You're welcome said Puss-in-Boots, "but if you hear of anything that cures indigestion, I wish you would let me know. I have had indigestion ever since I ate that wizard!"

YEH!—WHAT'RE WE S'POSED TO DO NOW—GO AN' CHECK OUR NOSEG ON A GAS JET, EH?—HA—IT WOULDN'T MAKE ANY DIFF TO ME IF A HORSE THREW TH' PRINCE OF WALES AT HER FEET!
WHAT KIND OF A TOMATO WAS HE, BUS?—I PICTURE HIM AS ONE OF THOSE SIGN BOARD CIGARET AD BOYS WHO STILL GRIN HANDSOMELY AS THEY PASTE TH' CONDENSED MILK SIGN OVER HIM!

Suggestion to Mothers: If you're saving Orange-Crush for unexpected guests, put the bottle in a safe place. Better yet, remove temptation. Keep a supply always on ice—just for family treat.

Here are six reasons why it's so delicious: (1) The natural fruit oil of oranges—which gives that delicate and distinctive flavor; (2) The natural acid of citrus fruits; (oranges, lemons and limes)—which gives the tang; (3) Orange juice; (4) Carbonated water—which gives "zip," sparkle, purity; (5) U. S. Certified food color—which makes it as appealing to the eye as to the taste; (6) Pure cane sugar.

That's all. My, what a drink!

Exterminator, Has Winning Average Better Than .500

BY BILLY EVANS

What is the most remarkable feat of recent years in sport?

When Cy Young retired from the major leagues after 22 years of service with over 500 victories to his credit, he gave pitchers something to shoot at.

Walter Johnson's feat of scoring better than 100 shutouts over a period of 18 years, stands out as a marvelous performance.

Ty Cobb, in winning the American League batting honors for nine consecutive years, pulled a superman stunt.

Babe Ruth, with 59 home runs in a season, set a mark for slugging that may never be equaled.

Bill Tilden, on the tennis courts, and Bobby Jones on the links, have many times done the seemingly impossible.

Johnny Weissmuller for several years has astounded the sport public by his seeming ability to break swimming records at will.

EXTERMINATOR, METHUSELAH OF THE TURF, IS OLD ENOUGH TO HAVE A LONG WHITE BEARD, BUT HE IS STILL A GREAT WINNER.

Record-Breaking Age

In track athletics, Joie Ray goes on year after year, cutting down the many rivals that spring up annually seeking his laurels for distance running.

The ring has produced fistic marvels in Dempsey and Leonard, who seem able to win at their pleasure.

In fact, every branch of sport has provided scores of big thrills in recent years. Apparently we are living in a record-breaking age.

But after all has been said and done, after we have sung the praises of the many stars, we must go to the turf for the outstanding figure of sportdom.

I have reference to that great thoroughbred, Exterminator. He cannot be interviewed as to his successful methods, and for that reason has no opportunity to say a few kind words in a modest way in his own behalf. His bid for fame rests entirely on past performances.

Exterminator's Great Record

Exterminator, 8 years old, at an age where most thoroughbreds are through, is perhaps the most feared horse on the American turf.

In seven years that he has been racing he has gone to the post in some 93 races. He has finished in front 49 times.

Just think of it! Exterminator has won better than half his starts. No other thoroughbred can offer a record that approaches it. The fact that he has usually been dropped in a classy field and carried top weight, makes his record all the more remarkable.

The world of sport has produced many record-breaking feats in recent years, but for consistency and brilliance the feats of Exterminator stand out without comparison.

EWING WINS THREE FIELD DAY EVENTS

Lee County Aggies Champions at Baseball—1000 See Game at Jonesville

EWING, VA., May 5.—Lee County Agricultural School was winner in three of the contests of the Field Day Exercises held at Jonesville Friday and Saturday for the county schools. The exercises aroused a great deal of interest and about one thousand persons saw the baseball game.

The Ewing baseball team ended a very successful series of games by winning the Championship Pennant over the Flatwoods team by a score of 11 to 8. This team has won over every senior high schol team in this section and over Middlesboro High School. These successes are due to the untiring efforts of Prof. W. F. Jones and Dan V. Richmond, in coaching the team; to the support given by the people of the community and to the work of the members of the team, who were: William Fulkerson, Jim Willis, Bill Blessing, Clyde Hoskins, Olin Stickley, White Dean, Nat Blessing, Jim Harris and Jim Kincaid.

In the music contest, Miss Mary Neil Thompson, pupil of Mrs. H. T. Ritchie, won the medal. Miss Thompson is quite a talented artist.

Miss Maud Dillman was winner in the 2000 word essay contest. Her story, "Sweetes' Li'l Feller," has won quite favorable comment from all who have read it, and shows unusual talent.

Miss Bessie Parker in the Grammar Grade Girls' contest and Jim Harris in the High School boys' contest were the other representatives from L. C. I.

All the contests were close, other winners being: Miss Margaret Bailey and Judson Carter of Dryden, winners in the High School girls' recitation and High School boys' declamation contests; Dryden High Schol girls' over Flatwoods girls' in basketball, 39 to 19; Miss Bacon of Flatwoods, Grammar Grade girls' recitation medal; and Jonesville High School, winner of the loving cup in the track meet.

Works For Charity

LINCOLN, Eng.—"Mac," an airedale terrier, catches coppers thrown to him in the "City Vaults" here. He has never been known to miss, and local charities are $600 richer by his skill, for "Mac" performs for charity.

Cocoanuts Cause Trouble in Drains

Cocoanuts are ordinarily inexpensive but two have recently cost the city several dollars each and a dozen or more business houses considerable and frequent inconvenience.

For several days the drainage system has been clogged on Nineteenth street between Lothbury and Amesbur yavenue. With each rain the streets would become flooded and the water would not recede for several days.

The street department recently investigated the condition. After digging through the streets into the drainage tiles the source of the trouble was found. Two cocoanuts, jammed closely together, were found in the pipe.

Nightcaps for Men

LONDON, May 2.—Former generations showed wisdom in their use of warming pans and nightcaps, according to Sir James Cantlie, 73-year-old physician. When nightcaps were worn, the doctor said, men kept their hair to a very old age.

FONDE NOTES

Mrs. R. J. Lankford has returned home from a delightful visit in Louisville with her sister who is in school there.

Mrs. Ray Hendrickson was the guest of Mrs. DenverHamilton Wednesday afternoon.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Simpson, a fine son, who will bear the name of Wayne.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Templin of Middlesboro were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lankfrod last week.

Mrs. Robert Griffin and little daughter, Dorothy, of Knoxville, are spending a few days here visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sweet motored home from Knoxville where they spent a few weeks with relatives.

The Ku Klux Klan of this place burned a cross on the mountain near here last Thursday night.

The Sunday School and B. Y. P. U. of the Fonde Baptist Church are growing rapidly and is said to be the best in Fonde's history. The Sunday School now measures up to the first standard required of a graded Sunday School.

The Ruths Pose

AND OUR PHOTOGRAPHER MAKES THE ASTONISHING DISCOVERY THAT THEY DO NOT TALK HOME RUNS

BABE RUTH AND MRS. BABE

THE above picture shows Babe Ruth—possibly you've heard of the gentleman—and Mrs. Babe in some sort of deep, earnest discussion.

Presumably the subject is baseball. Very likely it concerns home runs. What else would a great home-run hitter and a great home-run hitter's wife be discussing?

Mrs. Ruth has probably said to Mr. Ruth: "Gee whiz, Babe, you aren't socking the old apple half as hard as I looked for you to do this year. What's ailing you, anyhow?"

And you can just hear Mr. Ruth, in his fine old optimistic way, answering: "Honey, just you wait. I'll get going yet and show these hams what home-run hitting really is."

But what they really said, according to the unromantic photographer, who brought the picture into our office, was this:

The Babe: "Well hurry up and shoot. I don't wanna miss any time at bat."

Mrs. Babe: "Heavens sakes! Why don't you let a body know you're going to take pictures? I look terible in this hat."

"CARE OF CREDIT"
Means Some Personal Bookkeeping

One of the surest ways you can think of to neglect the bills that come to you the first of each month, is to be careless about them. The harm done to your credit rating in the stores is the same when you fail to pay a bill because you have misplaced it as when you just plain dodge it.

Many of the accounts that run two and three months or more most likely can be explained by carelessness on the part of the customers who don't handle their personal affairs in an orderly way. The cynical idea "let him do the worrying," is unsafe. It gets you over ears in debt before you realize, and p[illegible]it.

to get to be known as a [illegible] takes two or three months to pay up, and that is fatal to a credit rating that will be of real value to you. Carelessness with bills is as costly as deliberately abusing your credit.

Near Neighbors

I lived in an old stone house, one
With vine-covered walls and with casements wide;
And neighbors I had—Oh, passing near!
So whatever I did they closely spied.

A robin's nest by my window sill;
And the builders were up at the break of day,
And they filled the air with their pipings shrill,
Till the soft bird Sleep would flutter away.

But, later, my curious troubles began;
As I sat in My modest writing den—
Four pairs of round eyes every motion to scan—
Every turn that I made with my foolish pen!

How could one write, with critics so near,
With their dappled breasts and their downy throats
And that glance of a bird so swift and so clear,
All four of them busily taking notes!

All four of them said, as plain as could be;
"Why are you scrawling there with a quill?
When out in the world you might go free,
You are moping within and idling still!"

So I wrote no more till they fledged and flew.
Then I made me a song of a lonely nest
That was left without any regret or adieu,
And of all my songs I love this best.

—Edith M. Thomas.

Scored Ice

Your Protection against Short Weight

As another step in our efforts to protect our customers and assure them that they will GET ALL the ICE THEY PAY FOR, our drivers will hereafter, only deliver ice that has been MACHINE SCORED before leaving our factory, thus assuring FULL WEIGHT at all times.

SCORED ICE marked at the factory eliminates the old haphazard guesswork of the driver, guarantees uniform size and full weight, saves time and labor in handling with the result that the public receive more prompt and efficient service.

Though the driver be honest, he is not infallible and oft-times with the best intentions, his guess in sub-dividing a 300 or 400 pound cake of ICE into 25 and 50 pound pieces, by the old chopping method, results in underweight, while the dishonest driver reaps a harvest at the expense of the CUSTOMER and ICE MANUFACTURER through short weight.

SCORED ICE with its border on the edge of each piece is our guarantee of full weight and protects you from carelessness and dishonesty, assuring and guaranteeing 100% delivery on the ICE you pay for.

In place of getting just a formless chunk of ICE, doubtful in weight, look for the SCORED BORDER along the edge of each piece of ICE. It is your protection.
